We source our quality ingredients locally and make the most of Scotland's abundant natural resources, from fruit and vegetables to meat, fish and dairy. And since our food doesn't need to travel as far to get to us, this reduces our carbon footprint. For instance, our breads are sourced from Freedom Bakery – a local craft bakery with a creative twist on baking and a social conscience. Our ice cream comes from award-winning company Equi's – an artisan luxury ice cream maker based in Scotland, allowing us to support the local economy.
